In Loving Memory of Molly Amrhein 1899-1995

Carr Cemetery May 6, 1995

If we can for a moment - let us reach within ourselves and embrace that special place in all of us; where God lives, and breathes and has his being.

That we may give thanks to the Lord for having known Molly Amrhein. For had he not overcome death and the gave, this indeed would be a sad day for all of us here, and everywhere.

But because he lives - Molly continues to live with him in paradise.

O perfect savior lord of life
Our tongues resound thy wondrous tale.
Of your might, your mercy giving
With us all your love prevails.

Who from a cross despairing
For our sins complied,
There invoked his father's sparing
For the sins of man did die.

May your triumph over death sustain us Firmly in thy fold to bless, Man's imperfect mortal striving Beyond our grave of earthly stress.

Lift us homeward-Upward in thy joy enfold us, To your temple of the ages-When at last our eyes behold thee, When at last we stand with thee.
